Legal basis	Maritime public domain - 150 m setback from the coastline (proxy width)
2nd opinion	confirm - The AFTER image clearly shows large exposed bare/sandy areas and what appears to be reclaimed or constructed land where the BEFORE image showed dark water/vegetation, consistent with coastal construction or land reclamation rather than seasonal or tidal variation.
Reasoning	The before image shows a coastal area with water (dark green/blue) and a small sandy shoreline with minimal development. The after image shows significant land reclamation and construction activity with exposed earth/sand fill material, indicating coastal construction or land reclamation project has taken place at this Lebanese coastal location.
